Notes

There is the possibility that a player cannot participate in an offered tournament because there is a question mark behind her Lichess-Rapid-ELO rating. Question marks indicate that players didn't play enough games yet to have an Lichess rating. For those players, a beginners tournaments with the title "Get rid of your question mark (?)" will take place parallel to official qualifiers.

The organiser use the account name "Female_Europeans" and will be creating all tournaments on Lichess and can be contacted about any queries.

To ensure that only girls and women participate in the tournaments, the tournaments will be password protected.

The links to the tournaments and the passwords will be send to participating national chess federations with the task to communicate them to their players. Thereby federations are responsible to ensure, as far as this is possible, that the password is only shared with female players.

In addition, the links to the tournaments and the passwords will be provided by the organizing team directly before the start of the tournaments via an online platform.
